Theory: What should childhood be like? Including models from her research of late 19th century Romanian childhood.

Present Situation of Childhood: Including impact by mass media. In dialogue with Gloria DeGaetano, author of Parenting Well in a Media Age: Keeping Our Kids Human, winner of the 2007 I-Parenting Media Award.

Action Ideas: What parents and educators can do to improve the lives of children.

About the Presenter:

The historian Luminita Dumanescu is a specialist in Social Anthropology and a PhD candidate in Childhood History. She is the author of the book, Children's Transylvania (2006) and has researched childhood history, providing data points on what we can learn from past models of childhood. She has taught the History of Modern Europe, from the French Revolution to the end of the First World War. Luminita is the scholar who opened childhood history as a field of research in Romanian Universities.
